ALTERGY AWARDED LARGEST FUEL CELL ORDER IN TELECOM HISTORY

FOLSOM, California –March 1, 2012~ Alteryg is pleased to announce that it will deploy approximately 22 megawatts of its Freedom Power fuel cell systems to back up MetroPCS wireless cell tower sites in California. These systems will be replacing batteries and generators to provide clean, uninterruptable power to assure continuous communication capability at these sites.

This order consists of 1,528 10kW systems and 437 15kW systems, totaling more than 21,835,000 watts. This is believed to be the largest order for fuel cells anywhere in the world. These systems will be installed beginning in July 2012.

Alteryg's zero emission electrical power generators provide clean power at point of use, while providing high reliability, long runtime, a small footprint, low weight, long life, low maintenance, low noise, the lowest up front capital cost and lowest total cost of ownership of any solution. They are providing continuous and backup power to applications worldwide.

"Unlike batteries, generators, and other fuel cells, Alteryg's Freedom Power fuel cell systems provide the true uninterrupted power supply (UPS) capability that mission critical applications such as telecommunications demand. We were pleased to work with MetroPCS on this follow-on order and to provide clean, reliable backup power for their wireless cell tower sites. This new order is 12 times larger and demonstrates continued customer satisfaction in our products and their reliability." Says Richard Burant, Alteryg's Vice President of Sales, Americas.
